Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast,

Why is man and woman, half the time, feeling nervous, despondent, worried; some days headachy, dull and unstrung; some days really inrapacitated by illness?

If we all would practise inside-bathing, what a gratifying change would take place. Instead of thousands of half-sick, anaemic-looking souls with pasty, muddy complexions we should which it accumulates under our pres-ent mode of living. For every ounce of food and drink taken into the sys-less nights have become real cranks about the morning inside-bath. A quarter pound of limestone phosphate will not cost much at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate to any one its cleansing, sweetening and freshening effect upon the system.—

FRENCH THEATRE CO.

GIVES A STRIKE PLAY

The war between capital and labor was fought out to the death on the stage of the French Theatre last night, when M. Jacques Copeau's company appeared in Octave Mirbeau's "Les Mauvais Bergers." Hore the bad shepherds and the employers, with their narrow selfishness, and the leader of the strike in his revolt against acciety as it is constituted are shown. hards and Lucies Guitry appeared in the parts now taken by Mile. Luzanne Bing and M. Copeau.

M. Copeau made the rebellious Jean Roule, the apostic of the class war, a fierce and yet touching figure, while Mile. Bing rose to ber one great moment when the bereft wife swears vengance over her dead husband's body. Mr. Louis Jouvet, as the old workman, broken by a life of toll, his reason dulled through suffering, was harrowingly realistic. Mirbeau's play, while embodying truthful criticism of the present social order, lacks the fiaming passion and unsparing naturalism of Hauptmann's "Weavers." But it is interesting to see the labor problem with the eyes of this satiric analyst.
